

It's time to meet your community's transportation needs.

The Community Transportation Association's Massachusetts Institute for Transportation Coordination

WorkWithoutLimits

Applications now being accepted for the October 20-22nd event

A FREE, three-day intensive training to help you provide cost-effective and customer-focused transportation services in your community. At the training, you will learn about coordinating funding, information, services and equipment.

Your community team will:

- explore promising local coordination practices
- discuss effective community outreach and partnership-building strategies
- increase its knowledge about locally available resources, technical tools and operational issues
- develop 90-day and one-year strategic action plans for your community

The FREE training from CTAA and national experts includes registration costs, meals and overnight accommodations if needed. The training will be held at a Massachusetts location, to be announced.

Visit www.mass.gov/HST to download your application.
Application deadline is July 31, 2009.
