Come to the Congressional City Conference and enroll in NLC University!

On March 8-9, NLC University will offer half-day training sessions designed to develop personal leadership skills and cultivate topical expertise. Led by carefully selected trainers, these seminars examine new models of leadership, management, and engagement. Seminar participants will take home specific techniques that can be applied to local challenges, ranging from economic development and public safety to finding federal grants and addressing public pensions.

Earn credit and recognition for your achievement over time through NLC University's certificate program. All credits earned under the Leadership Training Institute automatically transfer.

Participation in these sessions requires an additional registration fee.

NLC University sessions include:

- The Economic Development Financing Toolbox
- Securing and Managing Federal Grants for Small and Mid-Size Cities
- Introduction to Priority-Based Budgeting
- Fostering Positive Police-Community Relations
- Performance Management: A Sustainability Case Study
- Utilizing Tax Increment Financing (TIF)
- Advanced Priority Based Budgeting: Applied Learning Seminar
- Strengthening Families and Cities: Connecting Residents to Federal and State Benefits
- Leading Your City through the Pension Fund Challenge
- Downtown Re-Development
- Public Leadership in the Information Age

New this year!

If you are unable to register for the full Congressional City Conference, you can register for just the NLC University seminars that you are interested. The cost to register for each session is $150 (members) or $175 (nonmembers). Choose the "NLC University Seminar ONLY" as your registration type and proceed to the selection of classes.
