Communications to the Council and the People of The United States of America:

From Peter Valentine 37 Brookline St. June 3, 2014:

This communication was inspired or generated from the order that the young people brought forward to remove the picture of Andrew Jackson from our monetary system because he was involved
in perpetuating slavery.

Let it be known that this communication is not about proposing the rights or wrongs of that intent but as a wonderment about the weirdness
of it all. So here we go:

The people who created this country did so because they wanted to end their slavery to the King-thing of England.

And by the way, I don't think our national language is English. I believe it's American.

So the root essence of the birth of this nation
was to End Slavery.

OFFICE OF THE CITY CLERK
CAMBRIDGE, MASSACHUSETTS

2014 JUN 3 PM 12:40

Even though the founders of the nation 2 were for the most part all involved in perpetuating slavery.

However the nation has succeeded in ending slavery but it has reverted back to perpetuating slavery because the now
president of the nation, who himself originated
from a people who were brutalized
by slavery, has signed along with many other government leaders, a government order saying that the government can arrest any citizen
without charge of a crime, without declaring any reason for doing so, no justice. That's a form - aspect of slavery because in slavery one does whatever one wants to the slave.

So this nation which started off with 3
the intent of ending slavery and succeeded in doing so, -has reverted back to it.

By the way my personal belief about slavery
is, it's a wretched disaster of human existence.

Now to continue on this journey of
"what's it all about alphy" and where we should be going" on the following pages you'll read what I believe is true, that we live in a massive ~~world~~ filled with billions of other civilizations some extremely hostile to us.

So, to me, the ultimate goal is how do we organize our existence so we can protect our existence and in the process have some happiness.

So engaging in the use of slavery which in essence is an act to derive life enjoyment

by perpetuating misery will not achieve the goal.

THE SUPPRESSED HISTORY <sup>3A</sup> of PLANET EARTH

by Robert Morning Sky

I am called "Morning Sky." I grew up hearing the stories my grandfather told of a space being he helped rescue. My grandfather was one of six young Native Americans who witnessed a spaceship crash in 1947, shortly after the now-famous Roswell incident.

When they reached the site of the crash, they found one being still alive. They took him back to their camp where they hid and nursed him back to health. They called him "Star Elder" out of respect; as time passed he told them his name. He was called Bek'Ti. He revealed to them the history of mankind and the planet Earth.

In the late 1960s, when I started college, I found myself entertaining the possibility that these stories might not be true. I thus enrolled in religious studies, an independent-study program that would allow me an opportunity to research ancient records to prove or disprove the many stories of Star Elder.

I submitted to my religious studies professor the thesis that summed up my three years of research. It was entitled "Terra, A Hidden History of Planet Earth." Within days, he labeled it "a work of blasphemy and outrage!" It nearly got me thrown out of school.

Having no success in the academic field, I decided to contact existing UFO organizations and researchers. The general response was to label my work "the stuff of myth and legend of Native Americans, not suitable to the serious study of a scientific phenomena."

This total rejection made me angry. For nearly 30 years, I refused even to pick up a book on UFOs or New Age phenomena. I religiously refused to read or listen to what was out there.

Now circumstances have changed. My grandfather is gone—but not before eliciting a promise from me to try once more to tell the story.

The history of mankind and Earth as revealed by Bek'Ti is both exciting and frightening. Man's creation and his place in the galaxy are clear, but in the discovery, Man's nobility and pride are injured. The abduction phenomena and the attending grey beings are integral parts of humanity's history, and explained against a framework of the Star Beings' purposes for mankind.

The sources of Man's religions and the origins of legendary figures like Zeus, Osiris, Isis, the minotaur and a number of other "mythological" beings are explained and also placed into the framework of Earth's history.

The Story of Man's Creation

In our galaxy there are billions of star beings: Humanoid races are the rule, not the exception. These races descended from many life forms—reptiles, insects, dinosaurs, birds and other life forms that mankind cannot begin to imagine.

One of the oldest Star Races in this sector of the universe is the reptilian Ari-An that descended from dinosaur ancestors in the star system of Orion. Ruled by queens, they created the most powerful empire in this galaxy. Ari-An warriors were unmatched for ferocity and bravery, and the Ari-An Empire was unmatched in power and size.

Millions of years and countless battles allowed this Empire to develop advanced war strategies. Among these, the Ari-Ans practiced "conditioning" or "reprogramming" to control conquered populations, thereby making them assets rather than liabilities. Enemies became obedient servants of the reptilian queens' throne. In this way the Ari-Ans eliminated resistance.

An unexpected evolution of another race in the star system Sirius posed a threat to the Ari-An Empire. Though not as old or as advanced as the reptilians, the warriors of the Kanus Empire, a doglike race (similar to wolves) made up for any lack with its fierceness. Even the most disciplined of the Ari-An warriors feared these vicious and barbaric Sirian warriors, who stopped to devour the flesh of their enemies on the battlefield.

Rapid advances of the Sirians warriors threatened the very existence of the Ari-An Empire. As a result the queens approached the Sirian kings to offer an alliance. A treaty was agreed upon that delineated which sectors of the galaxy each empire was to rule and, for a time, warriors of both empires fought side by side.

With the birth of a new star system, the Sirian king was quick to claim it. As the Sirians began to exploit its resources, this new system became an outpost for both the Ari-An and Sirian Empires, and the power and wealth for both continued again, this time among rival Sirian kings. In the end, Ari-An forces joined King An. Entire worlds held by the opposition were totally destroyed, including their moons and colonies.

Much later, King An sent his son, Prince Ea, and daughter, Princess Nin-Hur-Sag (both genetic scientists), to rebuild the destroyed world of Eridu and once again tap into the valuable and much-needed resources found there. They successfully restored the atmosphere; refilled the seas with life; recreated plants, trees and flowers; and hybridized many different kinds of creatures. The planet Eridu (Earth) was reborn.

This version of Robert Morning Sky's Terra Papers: Hidden History of Planet Earth was condensed especially for Perceptions by Betty Bland who lives and works in Seattle. She is executive director of Light House Promotions and is involved in producing the annual Ocean Shores Convergence Psychic Fair on Memorial Day Weekend in Ocean Shores, Washington.

In our galaxy there are billions of star beings: Humanoid races are the rule, not the exception.

The reason I don't know what will achieve
the goal is because it's all too complicated.
So the path I follow is to believe in

The Ultimate
CREATOR

of Life

From This Being I believe I can learn the ways of Survival. And I believe that every one else can do the same by listening to the Ultimate Being of Knowledge.

I, personally do not believe that God and The CREATOR are the same Being. Although in various circumstances they are confused
as the same.

The CREATOR, according to the way I see it is a creator of life, god who the creator,
created is a ruler-dominator over life.

So that's it. All successful existence, originally works its way out of messiness.
In the end The CREATOR'S will always prevail.
