The Cambridge Redevelopment Authority joins Mayor David Maher, City Manager Rich Rossi, and the greater Cambridge community in mourning the loss of our friend and colleague, Brian Murphy. Brian was a leader with an unmatched civic-minded sensibility and commitment to public service. He was a husband, father, son, brother, and coach, and was a large part of the Cambridge community.

For the CRA, he was our friend. Brian was instrumental in helping to reinvigorate the CRA several years ago. Together with former City Manager Healy and current City Manager Rossi, Brian worked closely with all of us at the CRA on matters large and small. He was a regular contributor to our work and a trusted advisor. We are in his debt for the assistance he has provided to the CRA and for his many contributions to our civic lives.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to Brian's wife Kate, his children Molly and Joseph, and to his extended family.
