To the Honorable, The Cambridge City Council:

The Cambridge Chronicle has reported on line on the budget for the Cambridge Development Department.

Their summary of the development department budget is posted on the Charles River White Geese Blog, along with 33 photos and summaries of multiple outrages in which it has performed very significantly. Details and those many photographs are posted on the Charles River White Geese Blog at Charles River White Geese Blog: Charles River: More money for destructive agency; budgets on both sides of environment.
