June 30, 2010 – At approximately 3:45 PM, officers from the Cambridge Police Department responded to a bank located at 485 Massachusetts Avenue after an alarm was triggered.

A man entered the bank and produced a note before fleeing with several plastic bags filled with an undetermined amount of money. The note made no mention of a weapon.

Bank employees say the man was a middle aged white male, around 45 – 50 years old, wearing a black Under Armour hat, glasses, a green t-shirt, and athletic pants.

Cambridge Police detectives believe this individual may be a suspect in two other bank robberies that occurred in Boston and are sharing information about this incident with the FBI Bank Robbery Task Force.
