Central Square Business Association Honors Officers at CommUNITY Luncheon

October 18, 2010 – The Central Square Business Association held its 2010 CommUNITY Luncheon at Le Meridien Hotel where they honored four Cambridge Police Officers for their service to Central Square.

George Metzger, President of the Central Square Business Association, opened the luncheon by welcoming the various community members and dignitaries by saying, “Today we’re here to honor those special people that help make Central Square what it is.”

Mayor Maher then addressed those gathered, saying, “It is a privilege and an honor to see so many police officers here and to be here to honor those officers. I truly believe that we have one of the best police departments, not only in the Commonwealth, but in the entire country.”

Honored at the luncheon were Officer William Barnes, Officer Eric Helberg, Officer Evelyn Kantor-Lugo, and Officer Matthew Price. These four officers were presented with gifts from the Central Square Business Association and were honored by Commissioner Haas who shared stories about each of the officers’ hard work and dedication to Central Square.

Commissioner Robert C. Haas and the Cambridge Police Department were also honored by the Central Square Business Association and CSBA Chairman Carol Barron, who said, “I take a good deal of pleasure in complimenting the Cambridge Police Department.”
