Cambridge Police Detectives Make Prescription Drug Bust

November 2, 2010 – As a result of a three month joint investigation between the Cambridge Police Department Special Investigations Unit and the U.S. Postal Services Office of the Inspector General, Stephen Rauseo, 47, of Saugus was arrested on Mooney Street in Cambridge after a search of his vehicle revealed 23 different drugs in various quantities.

These drugs were a variety of controlled substances consisting of eight bottles of liquid steroids, nearly 600 pills, and various bottles of other controlled substances.

All drugs were marked and submitted as evidence by Cambridge Police Detectives along with $1,093.00 in U.S. paper currency, various packaging materials, and five hypodermic needles.

Rauseo was placed under arrest and charged with six counts of Possession to Distribute a Class B Drug, four counts of Possession of a Class B Drug, and thirteen counts of Possession of a Class E Drug.

Anyone with information about this or other drug-related crimes are asked to call the Cambridge Police Department 24-Hour Anonymous Drug Tip Hotline at 617-349-3359.
