Forest City Now Wants To Build A Massive Bio Lab In Central Square

On Monday, your City Council will vote on whether to set aside zoning rules for a bio lab to be built in Central Square. The Planning Board has already rejected the project because it jumps the gun on a Central Square Plan soon to be completed. Aside from the additional traffic, congestion, noise and pollution the lab will bring, it extends the reach of Kendall Square's big box labs into a neighborhood that needs housing.
