

Join your community colleagues for an afternoon at the movies!

"Unnatural Causes" is an acclaimed documentary film series exploring the underlying causes of health disparities. Our neighborhoods, schools, access to resources and open space all determine the health of an individual or a whole community. This fall, we will screen three of this seven-part documentary series about racial and socioeconomic inequalities.

DO WE ALL HAVE AN EQUAL CHANCE
FOR HEALTH?

Wednesday, October 15: "In Sickness and In Wealth"

2:30 - 4 p.m. at City Hall Annex, 344 Broadway, Cambridge

Who gets sick and why? How do health and longevity relate to class status? How does chronic social stress impact our biology? Is inequality a matter of public policy?

Thursday, November 13: When the Bough Breaks

Wednesday, December 10: Place Matters

PLUS... YUMMY MOVIE SNACKS!
