RE: File No. 6414 –Personal Property Audits - Addendum No. 1

The following question was submitted and answered:

Question: Please clarify question#3 under the quality requirements found on Page 7 “The bidder currently provides Personal Property tax audits for only government agencies.”

Answer: The intend of Question #3 was to determine if the bidder would have a conflict of interest by providing personal property audits or appraisals for use in ad valorem taxation. Providing a personal property appraisal to a financial institution for financing purposes would not disqualify a bidder, but clients within the jurisdiction must be disclosed as part of the bid process.

All other details remain the same.
